TERMS AND CONDITIONS

INNOVATION AWARDS FOR FRANCO-CHINESE TEAMS

2014 EDITION

PREAMBLE

In France, innovation is understood as being a constant chain from fundamental research to industrial implementation, via technological cooperation between science and industry.

Cooperation in scientific and technological research plays a vital role in Franco-Chinese relations. Since 1978, our two countries have recognized the importance of research and have created several joint research structures, research networks and dialogue structures for industrial cooperation. This has been thanks to the bilateral agreement on scientific and technological cooperation, which was strengthened in 2003 by the statement on innovation jointly made by the French Ministries for Industrial Recovery and for Higher Education and Research and the Chinese Ministry for Science and Technology.

Alongside this, more and more French companies are creating R&D structures at the heart of the Chinese ecosystem. The diversity of actions that these companies carry out (fundamental research, adaptation or development of specific products for the local market, innovation) forms part of a common vision to develop this mutually beneficial cooperation.

To mark the 50th anniversary of diplomatic relations between France and China, the Comité France Chine (France-China Committee) has created the Innovation Awards for Franco-Chinese Teams aiming to promote and reward innovative projects of excellence that are jointly developed by Franco-Chinese bi-cultural teams. These teams may be from universities, French Grandes Ecoles and laboratories, or equally from research and development centers and/or French and/or Chinese companies. In this way, the whole chain of French-style innovation is represented.

Innovation refers to a new technology, process or service which could be distributed on a large scale with the aim of positively transforming the way we live our lives. This event in 2014, hereinafter known as "the Competition", is part of the promotional campaign "France Technology – So French. So innovative" launched by the France-China Committee and organized as part of France-China 50 (more information available at www.francetechnology.com).

ARTICLE 1: GENERAL DEFINITION OF THE INNOVATION AWARDS FOR FRANCO-CHINESE TEAMS

1.1. The three (3) Innovation Awards for Franco-Chinese Teams (hereinafter referred to collectively as "The Awards") are organized under the high patronage of Mr. Emmanuel MACRON, Minister of Economy, Industrial Renewal and Information Technology and Mrs. Geneviève FIORASO, Secretary of State for Higher Education and Research, and are co-chaired by the Director General of the French National Institute of Intellectual Property (INPI), Yves LAPIERRE, and an as-of-yet undetermined Chinese co-chairman.

1.2. Three (3) Awards will be handed out in each of the following three categories:

1.2.1. Young Talents: this prize is awarded for university and academic research projects. This category is open to anyone aged between 18 and 30 on the date that the application is submitted (hereinafter referred to as the "Young Talents Award").

1.2.2 R&D (Research & Development): this prize is awarded for innovations, not yet placed on the market, developed by one and/or a combination of public or private research units such as:

- research and development centers, and/or
- institutes, and/or
- company laboratories, and/or
- engineering grandes écoles, and/or
- universities

(hereinafter referred to as the "R&D Award").

1.2.3 Innovative Products Award: this prize is awarded for innovations which are already on sale on the market and for which a patent has been filed, by the date that the Competition application is submitted (hereinafter referred to as "Innovative Products Award").

1.3. The Awards will be handed out at an awards ceremony on 4 December 2014 in China, once the finalists have been chosen by a jury whose composition is detailed in Article 9 (hereinafter known as "The Jury").

ARTICLE 2 – ORGANIZING COMPANY

2.1. The Competition is organized by the France-China Committee (Mailing address: 55 avenue Bosquet – 75330 Paris cedex 07).

2.2. The France-China Committee (hereinafter known as "the Organizing Company") is an association created in 1979 and governed by the French Law of 1901. It is run by a company manager.

ARTICLE 3 - APPLICATION AND ELIGIBILITY

3.1. Participation in the Competition is reserved exclusively for:

- any group of natural persons of full age comprising at least two (2) persons. Each group shall be able to prove that it comprises members of both French and Chinese nationality (at least one natural person of French nationality and one natural person of Chinese nationality). For groups comprising more than two (2) persons, the total number of persons that can prove either their French or Chinese nationality must be at least equal to two-thirds (2/3) of the total number of members in the group; and
- any legal person that can prove it employs at least one (1) team of natural persons of full age that fulfill the conditions set out above.

3.2. The participating groups of natural persons and legal persons are collectively known as the "Teams".

3.3. Each Team shall designate one of its members to represent the Team for all dealings with the Organizing Company. This representative may be French or Chinese.

3.4. Participation in the Competition implies full acceptance of these Terms and Conditions.

3.5. Furthermore, these Teams must be (or be members of):

3.5.1. university research centers and/or engineering grandes écoles research centers and/or laboratory research centers (or their departments) that enter into Franco-Chinese cooperation and partnership agreements. These agreements may be developed:

(i) directly between the universities/grandes écoles, and/or

(ii) in collaboration with French and Chinese states' scientific and higher education cooperation agency, and/or

(iii) in partnership with companies based in France and/or China,

Or:

3.5.2. French companies with a presence in China or Chinese companies with a presence in France (whatever their size, through their products or sites) that develop, either on their own or in partnership with universities/grandes écoles, "research and development" programmes whose ultimate goal is to market new products (including software), processes or services that bear significant improvements in terms of their technical specifications and usages.

3.6. The Organizing Company reserves the right to ask any participating Team or natural person to prove that they meet these conditions. Any person not meeting these conditions or refusing to prove so shall be excluded from the Competition and shall under no circumstances benefit from any potential prize or winnings, and without giving rise to any kind of compensation.

3.7. The following may not participate in the Competition:

3.7.1. any gold and silver sponsor company of the "France Technology" campaign, that have chosen a member of the Competition Jury,

3.7.2. any natural person employed by these sponsors as well as any member of this person's family,

3.7.3. any expert consulted as part of this Competition as well as any member of this expert's family,

3.7.4. any natural or legal person that has participated, directly or indirectly, in any capacity whatsoever, in the creation of this Competition as well as any member of this person's family,

3.7.5. minors.

3.8. Each Team as well as each natural person within the Teams may enter precisely one (1) application to each Award category at the 2014 edition of the Competition. Each application is for a single Award only.

3.9. Existing innovations/projects can qualify for the Awards, so long as they are less than 5 years old. The project/innovation's age is determined by:

3.9.1. the date of publication/submission/presentation, for university and research projects eligible for the Young Talents Award, or,

3.9.2 the date of submission to a notary or public office to mark the priority, for innovations eligible for the R&D Award, or,

3.9.3. the date that the patent was filed, for innovations eligible for the Innovative Products Award

ARTICLE 4 – COMPETITION PRIZES

4.1. Each of the three Award winners will receive a prize that provides them with visibility in the press as well as contacts with Franco-Chinese authorities and businesses (invitation to events organized by the France-China Committee). These prizes may receive further rewards.. At the time of writing the Terms and Conditions, the prizes were unable to be determined. The Terms and Conditions shall therefore be subject to an amendment filed with the court bailiff mentioned in Article 16.1. Once the prizes have been determined, they will be published on the website www.francetechnology.com as well as on social networking sites of "France Technology – So French. So innovative".

4.2. The prizes may not be disputed by the winning Team; they are non-transferable and may not be sold. They may not be subject to an exchange, refund or discount, whether in kind or in cash, by the Organizing Company. However, in cases of force majeure as defined by statute and case law, the Organizing Company reserves the right to replace any of the prizes awarded with another of a similar nature and/or value.

ARTICLE 5 – HOW TO APPLY AND HOW WINNING TEAMS ARE SELECTED

5.1. The Competition will take place from 29 September 2014 until 1 December 2014 (inclusive). Entry to the Competition is open from 29 September 2014 until noon on 10 November 2014 (Chinese time). During this period, Teams will be able to put together an application form in accordance with Article 6 below.

5.2. The winning Teams of the following three (3) Awards (Young Talents Award, R&D Award, Innovative Products Award) will be chosen by the Jury from the 9 pre-selected finalist projects between noon on 20 November 2014 (Chinese time) and noon on 1 December 2014 (Chinese time) (inclusive). Winning Teams will be informed via email from the Organizing Company by noon on 1 December 2014 (Chinese time) at the latest.

5.3. The Awards ceremony will take place in China on 4 December 2014, during which the winning Teams will receive their prize. It is stipulated that the Organizing Company will not provide transportation to the ceremony venue; transportation is the responsibility of participants.

5.4. Application forms are available for download from the website www.francetechnology.com throughout the duration of the Competition, as are these Terms and Conditions.

5.5. The Teams as well as all natural persons within them authorize all verifications concerning their identity.

5.6. Any application form with missing, false, incomplete or illegible information as well as those made after the application deadline will be considered void and as such will not be considered.

5.7. In general, Teams must complete their application form truthfully and accurately. Any Team found to have breached these Terms and Conditions may be disqualified.

ARTICLE 6- PUTTING TOGETHER AN APPLICATION FORM

6.1. The application form is available from 29 September 2014 until noon on 10 November 2014 (Chinese time) on the web site www.francetechnology.com. It is also annexed to these Terms and Conditions.

6.7. In order for the application to be considered, Teams should return the application form in both paper and electronic formats before the deadline of noon on 10 November 2014 (Chinese time), the postmark providing proof of the date sent.

6.8. Any incomplete application form may be considered as inadmissible by the Jury. You will be notified of incomplete applications two (2) weeks before the submission deadline.

6.9. To keep track of your application, contact: Flore Coppin, Communications Manager of the France-China Committee - fcoppin@medef.fr

6.10. Application forms will not be returned to the Teams.

ARTICLE 7 - ASSESSMENT CRITERIA

Projects will be assessed based on the following criteria:

7.1. The emphasis placed on the team's Franco-Chinese bi-cultural aspect

7.2. Innovative aspects

7.3. Economic viability

7.4. The usefulness of the project in social, economic, industrial and ecological terms.

ARTICLE 8 – THE JURY

8.1. The Award winners will be chosen by a Franco-Chinese Jury comprising a minimum of nine (9) members (of which 5 are French and 4 are Chinese) and a maximum of thirteen (13) members (7 French and 6 Chinese) from Franco-Chinese institutions, companies, scientific publications and academia.

8.2. Winning Teams for each Award will be chosen by a majority of votes cast by Jury members.

8.3. Composition of the Jury and distribution of votes in the voting process:

8.3.1. Two (2) co-chairmen each having one (1) vote in the voting process:

- (i) French co-chairman: Yves LAPIERRE, Director General of the French National Institute of Intellectual Property (unless he is unavailable due to circumstances beyond the control of the Organizing Company)
- (ii) An as-of-yet undetermined Chinese co-chairman

8.3.2. A minimum of four (4) and maximum of eight (8) sponsor companies of the "France Technology" campaign (gold and silver sponsors in priority). Each of these companies has one (1) vote in the voting process, representing therefore a minimum of (4) and maximum of eight (8) votes. In order to guarantee equal Franco-Chinese representation, each sponsor company will be represented by someone of French nationality as well as someone of Chinese nationality. These two people will share a vote in the voting process

8.3.3. Two (2) technological and scientific media representatives (one Chinese media and one French media each with one (1) vote in the voting process)

8.3.4. One (1) representative of the French Embassy in China – scientific services, with one (1) vote in the voting process

8.3.5. If the eight (8) positions on the Jury reserved for sponsor companies were to go unfilled, then representatives of Franco-Chinese academia would be chosen and each would have one (1) vote in the voting process.

8.4. The Jury will be led by the Organizing Company, without the latter having the right to vote.

ARTICLE 9 – CHANGES TO COMPETITION DATES

9.1. The Organizing Company shall not incur any liability if, through force majeure or events beyond its control, it is required to cancel the Competition, to prolong or reduce its duration, to postpone it or to modify its conditions.

9.2. The Organizing Company reserves the right in all circumstances to prolong the application period.

ARTICLE 10 - LIABILITY

10.1. The Organizing Company shall not incur any liability in any of the following cases:

10.1.1. If data relating to applications does not reach the Organizing Company for any reason for which it cannot be held liable (especially if the postal system malfunctions or if the receiving equipment malfunctions, possibly preventing the Competition from running properly).

10.1.2. If, for any reason whose origin lies not within the Organizing Company, one of the prizes cannot be awarded as stipulated during the Awards ceremony.

10.1.3. If, as part of the development of their project, any kind of damage is caused to the Teams, their individual members or their equipment, or if this damage has any consequences on their personal or professional activities.

10.1.4. If any kind of incident and/or accident occurs during the enjoyment of the prizes awarded or the improper use thereof by the winning Teams and their members.

It is stipulated for all purposes that the Organizing Company shall provide no service nor guarantee concerning the use of prizes.

10.2. The Organizing Company reserves the right in all circumstances to prolong the application period, to modify or postpone any dates announced or to modify the conditions. The Organizing Company shall not be held liable as a result.

10.3. Additions or modifications to these Terms and Conditions may be published during the Competition.

ARTICLE 11 – GUARANTEES

11.1. The Teams as well as all natural persons within them undertake to:

11.1.1. Provide in good faith the necessary information about them and respond to any request from the Organizing Company.

11.1.2. Strictly adhere to the Competition's participation criteria.

11.1.3. Adhere to the legal and regulatory provisions applicable to the project that they are submitting as part of the Competition, particularly provisions relating to the protection of intellectual and industrial property, including but not limited to trademarks, patents, copyrights, and database laws.

11.1.4. Each Team and each Team member guarantee:

- that the project they are entering into the Competition is of their own initiative and that the project contains no borrowing or counterfeiting relating to existing protected inventions and/or works. They also guarantee overall that they are not entering any elements which infringe upon intellectual property rights or third party rights, in particular trademarks and copyrights;
- that they shall not impersonate any other person whilst participating in the Competition;
- that the project is not obscene or defamatory and that it does not infringe upon anyone's personal privacy or the publicity of third parties;
- that the project does not violate any laws or regulations in force;

The Organizing Company reserves the right to ask for supporting documentation for each of the statements above.

11.2. Teams reaching the final undertake to mention in any Competition-related marketing or statement that they are finalists of the Innovation Awards for Franco-Chinese Teams, part of the "France Technology" campaign.

ARTICLE 12 - ADVERTISING AND COMMUNICATION

12.1. The Teams as well as all natural persons within them authorize the Organizing Company to publish their contacts as well as a non-confidential project description, as indicated on the application form, to be used for advertising and communicating the Competition and the "France Technology" campaign exclusively. Each Team as well as each Team member must sign and enclose a form within their application, specifically authorizing the Organizing Company to do so.

12.2. This provision relates to all institutional and public advertising media: press releases and files, Internet (on all websites, social networking sites, blogs, institutional sites, etc.) video recordings, etc. on French, Chinese or other platforms, for worldwide usage.

ARTICLE 13 – FRAUD

13.1. The Organizing Company may cancel all or part of the Competition if it becomes apparent that any kind of fraud has occurred, especially IT fraud, in the context of any participation in the Competition or in the determination of the winners.

13.2. The Organizing Company further reserves the right to refuse to award prizes to those who have committed fraud and to bring proceedings before the competent courts against those committing such frauds.

ARTICLE 14 – PROTECTION OF PERSONAL DATA

14.1. Personal data relating to the teams is collected via the Competition application form which is accessible from the Organizing Company's website.

14.2. The personal data is intended for and shall be processed by the Organizing Company. Only data which is needed as part of managing and ensuring the smooth running of the Competition shall be processed. The data may be sent to members of the Jury, service providers and sub-contractors which the Organizing Company might call upon for the purposes of managing the Competition. The data shall not be used for any other purpose.

14.3. In accordance with the French Data Protection Act (No. 78-17) of 6 January 1978, natural persons within a Team have a right to consult, correct or erase their personal data. They may exercise this right or object to the electronic processing of their data by writing to the France-China Committee:

Mailing address: 55 avenue Bosquet – 75330 Paris cedex 07

14.4. If a Team or one of its individual members exercises this right, then the Team's participation in the Competition will be automatically canceled.

ARTICLE 15 – APPLICABLE LAW & DISPUTES

15.1. The Competition and its Terms and Conditions are subject to French law.

15.2. The act of sending a Competition application form implies the candidates' acceptance of these Terms and Conditions, with no objections or complaints about the results possible. The Jury's decision is final and the Jury is under no obligation to explain its decision.

15.3. In the event of any complaint or objection for any reason whatsoever, claims must be sent in writing to the Organizing Company within two (2) months of the Competition closing (the postmark providing proof of the date sent).

15.4. Any dispute arising from the Competition that cannot be settled amicably will be referred to the competent courts.

ARTICLE 16 – FILING OF TERMS AND CONDITIONS

16.1. These Terms and Conditions are filed with the firm Darricau Pecastaing, court bailiffs, located at 4 place Constantin Pecqueur 75018 Paris. The same applies to any possible amendment to these Terms and Conditions.

16.2. These terms and Conditions can be viewed and downloaded free of charge from the following web site: www.francetechnology.com. These Terms and Conditions can also be sent free of charge by post to anyone that makes a written request to the address below within ten (10) working days of the end of the Competition (the postmark providing proof of the date sent). This request should contain the mailing address to which the Terms and Conditions are to be sent.

France-China Committee

55 avenue Bosquet – 75330 Paris cedex 07

16.3. The Organizing Company shall reimburse the postage costs associated with making this request if a written request to do so is enclosed within the original request. Only one request per team will be reimbursed.

16.4. All incomplete or illegible requests as well as those sent to an address other than the one given above or those sent after the ten (10) working day period following the end of the Competition (the postmark providing proof of the date sent) will be considered void.

16.5. In the event of any prolongation or postponement of the Competition, the deadline by which to send the requests (both for the Terms and Conditions and for the reimbursement of postage costs) will be pushed back by the same amount of time.
